

The Inquirer's Questionnaire

Which discovery opportunity is best for you at this time?

Our Inquiry Sessions are ideal for you if ...

- You have questions about what it means to be in relationship with God.
- You're wondering who Jesus Christ really is and why the information about him is called "Good News".
- A fiancé or spouse or family member has been urging you to become Catholic, but you're not sure if this religion is really right for you.
- God has been doing something in you and you wonder what this means.
- You don't pray much or you have difficulty praying, and you want to find out more about prayer.
- You've heard things about Catholic practices and beliefs that you don't like or don't agree with, and now you're wondering if it's really true.
- You're struggling with a lot of doubts regarding God, religion, church, or related issues.
- You feel resistance to churchy things but you don't like this feeling.
- You like the open-ended format of discussions and don't want to sit in a classroom following a pre-set schedule of topics and materials.

You would be better served by attending RCIA Classes ...

- You have questions about many things and you prefer to sift through them in an organized fashion, topic by topic.
- You have a basic understanding of the Good News of Jesus Christ and you are comfortable with that news but you want to understand it better.
- Even if a fiancé or spouse or family member has been urging you to become Catholic, you're here because you're genuinely curious about the Catholic faith.
- You'd like to take care of yourself holistically, including your spiritual side.
- God has been doing something in you and you want more because you can sense that the changes are good and/or exciting.
- You pray at least a little and you want to find out how to increase communication with God.
- You're tired of having doubts and wish you could feel confident about God's love and other matters regarding faith.
- You wish you could answer faith-based questions when others ask you what you believe or what Catholics believe.
